

EMERGENT SUFISM

A WEEKEND OF SPIRITUAL EXPLORATION

WITH WAJID GALLIEN & AZIZA SCOTT

MAN IS A CONDITION OF GOD
LIKE A WAVE IS A CONDITION OF THE SEA

*The seas and rivers and streams have many names,
but they all contain water;
and religions have various names,
but they all contain the same truth
expressed in different forms at different times.
As water in a fountain flows as one stream,
but falls in many drops divided by time and space,
so are the revelations of the one stream of truth*

*The purpose of the soul is that which the whole of creation has been striving, and it is the fulfillment
of that purpose which is called God-consciousness.
The Sufi therefore tries to expand as he progresses;
for it is the largeness of the soul
which will accommodate all experiences and in the end become God conscious and all-embracing.*

A WEEKEND OF SPIRITUAL EXPLORATION WITH WAJID GALLIEN & AZIZA SCOTT

Wajid Gallien is a long-time Teacher and Sufi author who has led retreats in both the United States and Canada for the past 30 years. Gentle and down-to-earth, he brings a depth of spiritual insight and profound attunement to his teachings. In his approach, he often ties together the teachings of various Sufi mystics with his readings in others areas such as psychology and brain science. The French-born Wajid has lived in various parts of the world including Europe, South America and Canada. Now he resides in Seattle, where he works as a full-time interfaith chaplain.

Aziza Scott brings a wealth of experience and dedication to the retreat process. A dynamic and strong female presence, she has worked with the Sufi Order for the past 25 years. She is the Head of the Esoteric School and the Retreat Programs Director of the Sufi Order International. She regularly leads retreats and workshops throughout North America, Europe and India. Her connection to the Divine Names or wazaif (mantras), humour, and common sense help to create an approach that is both sacred and practical for use in personal problem solving, inner realization & spiritual growth.
